PLANNING FOR BIG ELKS' DAY AT NEW LONDON

Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson May Be Guest of Honor at Springfield-Planters Game.

It is planned to have a big Elks' day

It is planned to have a big Elks' day at Plant field some time in June. Upon this occasion it is expected that Grand Exaited Ruler James R. Nicholson of Springfield, Mass., chief officer of the whole order of Elks, will be the guest of honor.

Inasmuch as Springfield is Mr. Nicholson's home, it is deemed appropriate to have Springfield the opposing club on Elks' day. June 7 Springfield is due to play New London and that will be the date if Mr. Nicholson's schedule will allow of his coming here on that day.

No definite plans have yet been made, but the program will be ar-ranged as soon as it is known what date Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson

Columbia Retains Clean Sheet. Columbia Retains Clean Sheet.

Columbia kept its string of victories unbroken Saturday by defeating the Fordham University nine on Fordham Field, by a score of 7 to 1.

Jim McQuade did not start the game for Fordham, so Columbia scored six of its seven runs off Martin, in the first inning. The other came on an error when McQuade went on the error when McQuade went on the After the first inning the game developed into a pitchers' battle between George Smith and McQuade. Colum-bia had men on the bases in every inning, but the Fordham twirler was particularly effective in the pinches and, aided by improved fielding, held the Blue and White in check, Riverview Club Opens Season With a Victory-Score 2 to 0 -Hoffman Fanned 18 and Allowed Two Hits-McGraw Played Crack Game at Third.

The Riverview club of the state hospital opened its baseball season Saturday with a clean cut victory over the Willimantic Independents, score 2 to 0. Hoffman, on the mound for the home team, blanked the visitors and fanned 13 batsmen before the last out was called. He had plenty of smoke and his curves were of a select variety. The star portsider let the Thread City boys down with two hits, and although he was rather wild at times he was invincible. The team behind him played in mid-season form and with such a flying start the fans expect to see the Riverview club have a great season.

In the fifth McGraw made a sensational catch of a Texas leaguer which paved the way to a double play, and later on in the game made a pretty one-hand stop of a line drive which figured in another double play. Magnano achieved the batting honors, whaling out a triple, while Manager McGraw tucked the game away with a timely single with Butts on third.

son's schedule will allow of his coming here on that day.

Local Elks, it is expected, will turn out in numbers, to do honor to the grand exalted ruler and also in compliment to the ball team. Elks' day was planned three years ago but it rained and upset the plans.

Commodore Morton F. Plant, owner of the New London team, is a member of New London lodge. So are Manager H. Eugene McCann and Pitcher Freddy Rieger. Steve Manning, the right fielder, is a member of Saginaw, Mich., lodge and other of the players are members of out-of-town lodges.

New York, April 29.—Trading during today's short session was almost completely dwarfted by the further feverish activity of Mercantile Marine feverish activity of Mercantile Marine feverish activity of Mercantile Marine at advancing prices. The preferred shares made an extreme gain of 6 3-8 to the new high record of 91 and the common rose a point to 25 1-8 or 1-4 under its maximum quotation, made early in the week. Continued dealings in these issues aggregated 110,000 shares, or over 25 per cent. of the total operation.

POTTER SHOT 'EM TOO FAST FOR PUTNAM. Windham High Wine Opening League Game-Score 8 to 4.

(Special to The Bulletin.)

Putnam, April 29.—Pienty of pep, lots of brainy baseball, timely hitting, ginger, flavored with spicy playing—baked and served up by Potter, premiere slab artist of Windham High, and Putnam had a bigger bite than it could handle in a league game here this afternoon. No—we are not giving a course in domestic science, but are simply explaining the brand of baseball that the Thread City nine used this afternoon to so overwhelm Putnam that they still are wondering what happened. Putnam had a bad attack of baseball indigestion; and no wonder. Who could stand up and fall for all the tempting morsels that Windham offered and not be the worse for wear? Potter sedved 'em hot (curves, we mean), then he served 'em cold, Later they looked like hash. Anyway, Putnam bit at them all—and fished and fanned and didn't do a thing. And all (Special to The Bulletin.)

the time Mr. Potter grinned and slid over a few more hot ones. But to come down to real baseball. Putnam was outclassed from the start, Putnam was outclassed from the start, Willimantic men had all the stuff, luck favored them and—well, Putnam lost, 8 to 4. That's about all there is to it. For eight innings Willimantic kept Putnam from scoring. In the eighth Putnam got a taste and piled up four runs. But it was too late and Willimantic went home victorious.

Poor work in the Putnam outfield was responsible for many of the visit-was responsible for many of the visit-ors' tallies. But Putnam offers no excuses. They were beaten and know it. Pickett, Windham, kept the fans warm by giving them some clever batting exhibitions. Three hits are credited Shaw, Putnam, fanned 12 to him.

Raferty on second for the locals played a fast game, as did Riley and Kenyon of the visitors. The score:

MEREDITH GREATER IN DEFEAT THAN VICTORY Great Penn Runner Equals Record in His Efforts to Place Quakers on

Ted Meredith, the University of Pennsylvania's Olympic champion, is greater in defeat than in victory.

Forced to the absolute limit of his seemingly storeless reserve power, the peerless Meredith ran the last quarter mile for the Quakers in the one-mile relay championship on Franklin Fleld, 'Philadelphia, Saturday afternoon in 47 4-5 seconds, but even this wonderful performance, which equalled Maxey Long's world's record around a turn, was not enough to bring victory

Maxey Long's world's record around a turn, was not enough to bring victory to his team. Starting in last place, he faced a handicap of close to 25 yards when he took up the running, and it proved to be beyond even his superhuman speed.

Harvard, with Willcox running the last leg in 48 4-5 seconds, won the race in 3 minutes 19 seconds, a full second behind the record set by the Quakers a year ago. Sandwiched between Wilcox and Meredith, who were only five yards apart, was Billy Moore of Princeton. It was a race of races, with the lead changing hands from gun to tape with kaleidoscope frequency. gun to tape with kaleidoscope frequency.

Despite the fact that the Yale two-mile relay team and the Cornell four-alle combination equalled the world's record in their respective races, it was Meredith's spirited dash that stirred the great crowd of 20,000 to the greatest emotional heights. Although not one in the vast throng dared hope, no matter how fondly he might have wished it, that Meredith would do the impossible and race to victory in the face of sure defeat, the sturdy, stout-hearted Quaker whirled around the track with the speed of a hurricane while friend and foe alike arose and cheered his galiant spirit.

Cheered his gallant spirit.

Yard by yard, with the crowd yelling itself hoarse, the peerless Meredith cut down the advantage of the Harvard and Princeaon teams. Rounding the last turn, he put forth the mightiest effort of all, but the effort was too soon, and the best there was in him just fell short of bringing him the greatest triumph of his illustrious carreer.
